County Heart Chapter Leads State In Gift Receipts for Association

Gifts to the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Heart Association were the largest of any chapter in Florida this year.

The statewide Heart Fund report lists contributions from Palm Beach and Martin Counties in the amount of $327,126.

The second largest total was $280,992, reported by the Suwannee Heart Association which serves Pinellas, Sarasota and Manatee Counties.

"The splendid response from the people of Palm Beach and Martin Counties is dramatic evidence that they understand the conquest of heart disease is through research," said Sen. Jerry Thomas, chairman of the board for the local Heart Association.

"Heart and circulatory diseases killed 30,066 persons in Florida last year, more people than live in a town the size of Lake Worth. But on the bright side, countless thousands of lives have been saved or healed. The medical advances that made this possible were accomplished through the generosity of people such as we have in our own county."

A parade and pep rally took place on Tuesday with the High School Band bringing the music. A bonfire helped celebrate the occasion.

Yesterday was "Color Day" for the students of the Belle Glade High School.

Sponsors for the pre-game activities were Mary Lee Amerline, Janet Chapman and Frank Collins. These girls were elected by the graders last Friday.

After keeping with the Color Day theme sophomores wore gold, juniors blue, and seniors gold, combination of blue and gold.

A dance, sponsored by the Beta Club, followed last night's contest.

Activities for the traditional pre-game program was coordinated by Bert Ward.

Veterans Have Less Than Year For GI Loans

World War II veterans have less than one year left to take advantage of GI guaranteed or insured loans, according to George S. Vought, Palm Beach County Veteran's Service Officer.

July 25, 1967, is the deadline for World War II veterans' eligibility, he said. Eligibility for World War II veterans is determined by a formula which adds ten years to the date of their last discharge plus one year for each 90 days of service.

Thus, eligibility for many has already expired, but the 25, 1967 date is the cutoff for all other World War II veterans who were discharged for a service connected disability, and the widows of such veterans will be eligible up to July 25, 1967 deadline.

Two youths escaped injuries Tuesday when the vehicle they were traveling skidded into a path of a truck on SR 80 just west of the intersection of Sun Sector Road on nine mile bend.

Race Tax Funds Are Released

TALLAHASSEE — Fred O. (Bud) Dickson, Jr., Comptroller of Florida, today announced the release of $52,000 in state racing tax receipts to Florida's counties.

Dickson noted that the funds for November totaled $2,000 over the funds released during a like period last year.

The current release was the first one made during the present fiscal year.

Although the name of the new organization incorporates "State Road 80", it was explained the existing highway is not necessarily the route which will be followed.

From the road group that is often cheaper to build a new roadway than to attempt to repair the existing two-lane facility and then add the other two lanes.

He stated that he had prepared four possible routes for the new proposed highway.

Commissioner E. W. Weaver said the present highway could be used as a farm-to-market road, if it is possible to gain approval for a new route.

Earlier in the year Weaver said it was possible to gain approval for a new route.

Legislative Group To Attend Local Meeting

Governor-elect Claude Kirk of West Palm Beach has been invited to attend a meeting of the Canal Hazards Safety Committee at the Belle Glade County Club next Tuesday.

The session will be a dinner meeting at 7:30 p. m.

Also invited to attend the evening's session is the Palm Beach County Legislative delegation.

George L. Williams, chairman of the committee, said that the elected officials had been invited in order that local committee members might get acquainted with them and that they might get acquainted with the local group as well as the problems and plans of the safety group.

Williams said that acceptance had been received from a number of the Legislators for next Tuesday's session.

The Canal Hazards Committee was first formed to push for safety measures along the highways bordering on the many canals in the Glades area. It was organized with the late Henry O. Earwood, who died early in the year, was the group's only chairman until his death. Williams was named to succeed Earwood at a reorganizational meeting held about two months ago.

At recent meetings of the safety group, four-laning of an east-west highway has been adopted as one of the major projects.

The membership of the committee has been recently enlarged to include representatives from the western part of the county.

A $50-million-plus impact is made on Florida's economy by social security and related payments each month, 60 per cent more than in 1961, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce stated in its Weekly Business Review released yesterday.

Receiving these payments were 663,000 retired Floridians by year's end 1965. This number represented 11.4 per cent of the state's population in 1965 compared with 8.8 percent in 1961.

"Counties with more than the state's average of 11 per cent are headed by Charlotte where 29 per cent of the population received retirement benefits. Pinellas follows with 26 per cent, Sarasota, 25, Pasco 24, Manatee 23 and Citrus 20."

"From 18 per cent downward to just over the state's average are, in order, Osceola, Volusia, Hernando, Lake, Broward, Lee, Martin, Highlands, Indian River, Palm Beach, Franklin, St. Lucie and Marion."

"Ranging downward below the state average of 11 per cent through six per cent are 39 counties. They are in order, Liberty, Levy, Duval, Holmes, DeSoto, Polk, Washington, Collier, Clay, Sumter, Hardee, Hillsborough, St. Johns, Gilchrist, Putnam, Suwannee, Flagler, Wakulla, Orange, Taylor, Lafayette, Walton, Calhoun, Dixie, Hamilton, Madison, Jackson, Bradford, Jefferson, Columbia, Gulf, Gadsden, Seminole, Oklawaha, Bay, Baker, Duval, Nassau and Glades."

is among the 10 "million dollar" states listed by the American Heart Association. The 1966 Palm Beach Heart Ball, headed by Mrs. Louis E. Maron, was the nation's largest Heart benefit.

When asked in what sense the Number One Heart Chapter in the country could improve, Sen. Thomas replied to the challenge by saying, "We have not yet scratched the surface on Heart's biggest program. Bequests help advance the Heart Cause, and they are tax deductible."

J. E. Morgan, Jr., of West Palm Beach has been named chairman of the new Bequest Committee.

Persons who have had contact with the various heart diseases either personally or through their families may wish to remember the Heart Association in preparing their wills, Morgan said.

The committee has been formed to assist people in reaching satisfactory decisions concerning bequests to fight our most serious chronic disease."

Thought for the Week

God has two dwellings: one in heaven, and the other in a meek and thankful heart.—Isaiah 66:1.

Can Sugar Prevent Heart Attacks?

Since the production of cane and sugar is of such great importance to the Glades area, the following article from the Sugar Bulletin is of interest to our people: "Members of the American

Population Growth Poses Problem

Population experts have warned that if the current trend in population growth continues through the year 2000, the world census will have climbed beyond a staggering 7 billion people, double what it is today. With a great portion of the earth's people already underfed, and population increasing twice as fast as agricultural production, a very real possibility exists of a world plagued by hunger and famine before the end of the twentieth century.

"So rapid is the growth of population, and so serious are its consequences, that ours may be the last generation to have a chance to cope with the problem on the basis of free choice," says John D. Rockefeller, III, chairman of the Population Council. His statement echoes the concern of many who believe there is still time to create for all peoples opportunities for a full life, not just survival.

The danger of famine is most critical in underdeveloped countries where rising births are already taxing insufficient food sources. And the task of motivating these countries to take the measures necessary to achieve a balance in population and food production is often obstructed by ignorance and archaic customs. Nonetheless, people like U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman believe the food producing capabilities of these countries must be mobilized soon, because in less than 20 years the more advanced nations may well have exhausted their capacity to feed the less-developed and hungry countries. Some socialist countries — notably the Soviet Union — have adopted a few free enterprise incentives. If these incentives help to increase agricultural production, the door of opportunity in other socialist countries may be opened enough to increase total world food production. However, it will obviously take more than food to meet the problem. Mr. Rockefeller, writing in the October issue of The Reader's Digest, describes how family planning programs to control population are being accepted by the peoples of some underdeveloped countries. "Many national leaders have come to understand what needs to be done, and some are coming to grips with the problems."

In the United States, foreign aid programs are placing more emphasis on economic and agricultural development. Birth control assistance is being offered. American farmers are being urged to grow more. Business is working to develop new technology, chemicals and fertilizers to increase agricultural production. And American citizens are contributing heavily in tax dollars and through private organizations to help save the world from starvation.

There is reason to believe that famine can be averted and a full life — in every sense of the word — can be brought within the reach of all people. "... the most important thing we can do..." says Leslie B. Worthington, president of U. S. Steel Corporation, "is to make certain that this country — this fountainhead of agricultural, technological, and industrial progress — remains strong and continues to grow." The ability and willingness of the United States to assist the underdeveloped nations may be the world's best hope against hunger. Too, it may well be the United States' first line of defense.

Medical Association, which held its 150th annual convention in Philadelphia a couple of weeks ago, were told about scientific studies being made at the Philadelphia General Hospital to determine the most significant factors in the development of heart disease.

"Dr. Samuel Bellet, chief of cardiology at Philadelphia General Hospital said coffee, tea and cola drinks are facts 'of significant importance' and may be even more important than smoking in setting the stage for heart attack.

"According to Dr. Bellet, the ingredients common to all three beverages and the one that causes the trouble is caffeine. Caffeine sets off a series of chemical reactions which result in the breaking loose of fatty acids from their normal storage places in the body so that they travel around in the blood stream.

"The adherence of those fatty acids to the inner walls of arteries, accumulating over a long period of years makes the arteries narrower and less flexible — a condition doctors call arteriosclerosis.

"In studies conducted at the Philadelphia General Hospital, rises in the fatty acid content of the blood occurred in all patients after drinking coffee-containing coffee. The studies also showed that putting sugar in coffee sharply reduced the tendency of fatty acids to move into the blood stream.

"The same thing would be true of the cola drinks, according to Dr. Bellet and people who drink the diet substitute for sugar reduce their intake of calories but end up with more fatty acids in their blood."

Thanksgiving 1966

In many homes across the nation today, there's a vacant seat at the dinner table. It seems as if yesterday, when the high chair was put up in the attic, and he sat down at the table for the first time, propped up with a few pillows.

As he began to grow tall, he talked about many things. He would be one day a policeman or space scientist, professional ballplayer or a college professor. The world was a wide place.

His adolescent years passed quickly — high school days had come and gone — and suddenly overnight he became a man — for Uncle Sam beckoned and approved.

His turkey dinner with all the fixings will not be the same as ours. The Viet Cong may not wait. We'll miss his infectious grin — his kidding around with the rest of the family — no, he is on serious business now.

To those families with the empty chair — words are inadequate to express the feelings of a family separated by war.

What all of us can do, when we sit down to that traditional Thanksgiving Day feast, is to pause — give thanks to the Supreme Being and pray that a safe return may be granted to those absent and that peace will come to the world.

And as George Washington proposed in his Thanksgiving Day proclamation in 1789 thanks for constitutional government, let us hope that the governments of the world may become servants and not masters of the people.

Victory For Conservatives

By their voting November 8, Americans accomplished a stunning rollback of the Johnson administration's Great Society. The Republican Party, which picked up 47 seats and 8 governorships, is now in better shape than it has been for years. This is not to say, of course, that the conservative struggle has been won. What's happened is that conservatives have achieved victory in a very important battle. But there are many key battles still ahead, chiefly the presidential contest of 1968.

Nevertheless, with heavily augmented strength in Congress, the conservatives will be able to apply the brakes to the Johnson administration's waste full programs. It is unlikely, for example, that the Great Society planners will be able to extend the rent subsidy program or increase outlays for the War on Poverty. The 90th Congress should be able to implement constructive opposition.

The Johnson administration also is likely to encounter effective congressional opposition if it seeks again to enact new "civil rights" legislation which benefits one privileged class of Americans while denying the vast majority of Americans their genuine civil rights to law and order in the streets.

Furthermore, the Johnson administration may realize that it cannot take extreme positions on foreign affairs, such as aiding the Afro-Asian bloc in the United Nations in its demands for an extension of U. N. authority in Africa. The new Congress certainly is not likely to approve the spending of vast sums for U. N. adventures anywhere in the world.

In the 89th Congress, conservatives were stymied. The liberal majority in the House election reduced conservative numbers until they could only vainly protest against the dangerous legislation. This situation has been changed. Half the liberals elected in 1964 were defeated at the polls.

In this connection, it is important to note that supporters of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy lost as heavily as Johnson administration supporters. Sen.

Kennedy, who hoped to develop a bloc of satellite governors and senators in preparation for 1968 or 1972, suffered a severe setback.

Many Afflicted

By Lewis Llewellyn
Amnesia is a dread disease which occasionally strikes a person, blotting out all memory of the past.

Recently, a young man was found in Miami, who had forgotten everything about himself — his name, his home, his family and friends.

From papers and cards in his pockets, he was identified and his father flew to take him home.

Fortunately, this sickness is rare.

But, to some extent, many of us seem to be afflicted with a sort of forgetfulness which becomes chronic and has far-reaching effects.

Nine of a group of ten lepers whom Jesus healed, once distant day, also had this trouble.

When the Master had healed these men, He sent them to the priests, to keep them from the Mosaic law governing leprosy cases.

Jesus turned to His disciples and asked, "Where are the nine?"

Does the same proportion hold true now as then? Is there about one out of ten who thinks to thank the Lord for the abundant blessings which He has bestowed on us?

WHERE ARE THE NINE?

Returning from the priests, with a clean bill of health, one of the ten found the Lord and thanked Him for delivering him from his loathsome leprosy.

Jesus turned to His disciples and asked, "Where are the nine?"

Does the same proportion hold true now as then? Is there about one out of ten who thinks to thank the Lord for the abundant blessings which He has bestowed on us?

Perhaps the most important election was in California, where Ronald Reagan won with a margin of nearly a million votes, or 58% of the total. Mr. Reagan, a Republican conservative, ousted Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown, who has been entrenched in California since he defeated former U. S. Sen. William Gray. The special significance of Mr. Reagan's victory at the polls is that the Republican delegation to the GOP nominating convention in 1968 will be a conservative delegation. It also will be the largest delegation on hand.

No established conservative figures lost in the Nov. 8 election, and conservatism gained a translation of new blood. The conservatives cannot afford to rest on the laurels won in the congressional and gubernatorial elections, however. They simply have a case for constructive action and for further organization.

The country will not be safe until the Congress is steered by responsible forces and the nation's political policy, through the executive branch of the federal government, is in the hands of people who believe fully in national sovereignty, states rights and conservation of the financial resources of the citizen. To that end, conservatives will have to work hard between now and 1968.

Bug Hookum was lamenting that the more people we get to feed the less food we can give to work in the fields. He was of the opinion if the Government would send some of the Federal employees back to the farm it would help solve the problem. He had took note, he said, that Government at all levels now has 11 million workers, which is exact double the number on the taxpayer's payroll 10 years ago. Furthermore, he said, this is 500,000 more than we had just two years ago.

Personal, Mister Editor, this whole problem of farm labor and national economy is a puzzle to me. It ain't no wonder this town in Australia got up a Anti-Progress Association to try and keep down growth. They don't want no more factor and said they was gonna cut out the telephone service to practical zero to slow down the pace of living.

I like to be optimistic about these matters but I can't git as optimistic as that 80 year old man that bought a orange grove that won't bear no oranges for 10 year.

TRUTH PICTURE

If this is an approximately true picture of life in the United States today, perhaps it's a good thing that once a year since the time of Abraham Lincoln, the president of this great nation signs a proclamation setting aside a day of special thanksgiving for the divine favor which we have long enjoyed as a nation.

This Thanksgiving, let's all remember to turn our hearts to God in gratitude.

"Oh, that men would praise the Lord for His goodness and for His wonderful works to the children of men!"

LAFF OF THE WEEK

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I got my pamphlet from the Department of Agriculture last week and it was full of interesting items. For instance, they was a small item reminding us that this was International Rice Year and that 250 million tons of rice was cast in the world over year.

This rice item got me to thinking about how this country's food surplus is gone. According to my pamphlet, 60 million acres of farm land was now in the soil bank and we was going to draw it all out and use it for growing food by 1970.

I bring this matter up at the country store. Saturday night last week Doolie reported he had saw where Secretary of Agriculture Freeman was urging country folks that has more to town to go back to the farm on account of we didn't have enough farmers now to work them 60 million soil bank acres. Ed, that ordinary farmer farm supports was unconvinced. It is now of the opinion that doing away with it would be bad. He said if it was to cut out the money that Democrats has give away money to build so many golf courses where good farms used to be we would have plenty of farm land.

Clem Webster of the Great Society says he was reading this piece where farm price supports this year will hit $3 as a half billion a billion more than last year and would amount to a fourth of the net farm income of the whole country. He claimed this was fine for the farmer and the nation's economy, and he was high in the praise of Secretary Freeman and the Administration.

Evangelist Billy Graham To Speak At NCC Assembly

Evangelist Billy Graham will address a luncheon meeting of the National Council of Churches' Seventh General Assembly, at the Fontainebleau Hotel in Miami Beach, Dec. 4-7, it was announced by NCC general secretary Dr. H. Edwin Epp.

The internationally known Dr. Graham will speak to a "Fellowship Luncheon" on the theme of the triennial meeting: "That the World May Know," from John 17:23 (RV).

Presiding at the Graham

luncheon will be Mrs. Norman Vincent Peale, wife of the minister and well-known author, and also a member of the National Council's general board.

The General Assembly — often called the "triennial" — will bring an estimated 3,000 church leaders to Miami Beach for six days of business sessions which will affect the future course of the cooperative church movement in America.

Church leaders will consider pressing issues which face the church today: unity, evangelism, and the moral implications of a host of problems arising from urban renewal, science and technology, sex, marriage and family life, race relations, international affairs, poverty and revolution.

Reflecting the rapid spread of Christianity in recent years, the forthcoming Assembly will for the second time include official observers from the Roman Catholic Church. Jewish observers have also been named.

Vice President Hubert Humphrey will address a public session on the night of Dec. 7. The session, featuring also a program of sacred music, will be open to all. During the week, the Assembly will con-

Adventists Continue World Service Appeal

The Belle Glade World Service Appeal opened Nov. 19 and will continue until Dec. 30. The World Service Appeal is an annual appeal, made every year since 1903 by the Seventh Day Adventist Church on behalf of the church's welfare, education, medical and missions work in 189 countries of the world.

All solicitors for the Belle Glade campaign will be identified, unpaid, Adventist volunteers. Money contributed is divided between local needs and world needs. This fund is the only public appeal for funds made by the Adventist Church. Each year approximately seven percent of the total budget for Adventist World uplift programs is given in support of service appeal in community campaigns such as the one underway in Belle Glade.

A candlelight service Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock will mark the beginning of the Advent season at Community Methodist Church. This service will be the first in a series of special services each Sunday evening, leading up to the birth of Christ.

Lighted candles will be placed about the sanctuary for the first service and each person in the congregation will hold a candle.

The program will be singing by the choir and congregation and Scripture reading.

Rev. and Mrs. E. H. Elland attended the Florida State Baptist Convention held in Pensacola on Nov. 8-10 and went on to Vivian, Louisiana for a week's visit with Mrs. Elland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Sheffer.

Seven verse pleasers, four sessions of simultaneous discussion meetings covering seven program areas of the NCC's ongoing work, four programs for special visitors, and five Bible study meetings for all participants.

An Assembly study book, FOR THE WORLD, is now in nationwide distribution. It was written by the Rev. Dr. Colin W. Williams, associate secretary of the NCC Division of Christian Life and Mission. More than 92,000 copies of this book have been distributed for study by local churches in preparation for the triennial meeting.

A final highlight of the week will be the installation of a new NCC president to succeed Bishop Reuben H. Mueller of Indianapolis, Ind.

Meditaciones Cristianas.

Por el Rev. Cesar M. Benitez

DEMOS GRACIAS:

Muchos creen que el cristianismo y la felicidad viven en direccion opuesta a la calle, pero en verdad ambos viven en la misma casa. Solamente donde el Dador se les da las gracias la felicidad fluye.

La Biblia nos enseña que la vida no consiste en la abundancia de las posesiones. Pero la abundancia sin la gratitud es triste.

Se nos dice que los Americanos gozan de la prosperidad mas grande del universo. Continua la informacion diciendonos que la nuestra es la sociedad mas afluente en la historia y de eso no hay duda. Pero de verdad gozamos nuestra abundancia?

Cuando la cosecha viene, los celebrantes mas felices seran aquellos que con mucho o poco a la mesa han una pausa para decir: PADRE NUESTRO que estas en los cielos... Y en una accion de gracias exclaman en sus corazones la gratitud que Dios es bueno.

Que es la religion cristiana sino aceptar con reverencia todas las dadas de Dios con gratitud. Cuando fallamos al dar gracias todas las dadas de Dios con gratitud. Cuando fallamos al dar gracias a nuestro Dios llegamos a tener desprecio de todas las cosas. Entonces el hombre en esa situacion no ama a Dios, ni a su proximo, ni los valores espirituales, culturales, morales ni aun los materiales. Cuando las buenas dadas de Dios no son aceptadas con gratitud, pronto vienen a ser tratadas sin respeto y entonces se abusa de ellas.

En sintesis una profunda enfermedad espiritual cuando el hombre refusa darle gracias a Dios con gozo por todas las cosas buenas y justas que El nos ha otorgado sin merecerlas. Aquellos que no estan preparados para responder a Dios por su incomparable dadas con gratitud y gozo no estan listos a comprender el significado las cosas menores en la vida: pazo azado, pueblo de salubridad y todos los demas alimentos.

Aquellos Peregrinos venian a vivir en un exilio. Habian tomado prestado el dinero para el pasaje. El duro frio en la nueva tierra les produjo enfermedades y muchos de ellos murieron el primer ano. Sus cosechas del primer ano fueron pesimas y por encima de todo esto ellos se reunieron y dieron las gracias a Dios en un sencillo servicio religioso.

Si, hemos de tener problemas, sufrimientos diversos, pero en lo mas duro de la existencia humana hagamos una pausa y miremos al cielo para decir gracias Dios mio.

Worldwide Bible Reading Program Begins Thanksgiving

Rev. W. R. Boland of Community Methodist Church is urging all local residents to participate in the 23rd annual Worldwide Bible Reading Program of the American Bible Society from Thanksgiving through Christmas. He states that 20 million persons took part in the Society's Worldwide Bible reading program in 1965.

Volunteers called the Bible and "Exploded book" and predicted it would be read in 100 years, but continuing demands by the world's exploding population keeps the Bible top the best seller list.

Today — less than 200 years since Voltaire's death — at least one book of the Bible is available in 1250 languages and dialects to help meet the spiritual hunger of millions, officers of new literate, in the world's emerging nations. By reading the same pre-selected Scripture portion each day, a spiritual bond is forged between Christians in many lands of the earth," Rev. Boland said.

With thousands of servicemen in Viet Nam, this year takes on a special significance, as they are expected to participate as did the servicemen in World War II and the Korean Conflict.

Good Deeds

"So also good deeds are conspicuous, and even when they are not, they cannot remain hidden."

— I Timothy 5:25

How long has it been since you have known the inner satisfaction that comes with the knowledge you have helped someone in need? How often do you look about you without seeing the thing that needs doing? Have you failed to recognize opportunity to perform an act of charity or kindness at no more cost than a moment or two of your time? Look not for a reward for everything that you do. Help someone and your reward will come. You will know you have been touched by the grace of God and gratitude for the good things that are your own will be multiplied.

Home Decorations For Christmas Displayed At Club

CANAL POINT — Attractive fall and Christmas decorative arrangements for the home of original design by Mrs. A. H. Tucker, Sr., and Mrs. L. R. Kable, attended at the Colonnades Hotel, Palm Beach Shores, on Oct. 31. She also reported that the Club has completed its fund-raising project, the sale of fruit cakes for the holiday season.

It was announced the Canal Point Club will be represented at the Christmas Symposium in the Mounts Building, West Palm Beach, Dec. 7, by Mrs. G. H. Tucker, Sr., Mrs. Paul Kardin and Mrs. Ralph Duran. Mrs. C. E. Festerling was introduced as a guest.

The 1200 members to the convention acted upon a motion by the college committee of the Palm-Lake Baptist Association to activate the board of 21 trustees thus enabling them to proceed at once with the development of the college.

The trustees will hold their organizational meeting in Jacksonville on December 8th at which time a chairman, vice chairman and committees necessary to establish the college will be appointed.

Among the trustees are Dr. Jess Moody, chairman of the local college committee, Rev. J. C. Walters, Jr., of Lake Worth, Mrs. James Nenece of Palm Beach and Dr. Donald Warren of West Palm Beach.

Dr. Moody said he was gratified by the decision of the convention. The college committee, he said, will now go forward to complete its campaign in Palm Beach County to raise the $1,500,000. The amount raised thus far is $770,000.

"This is the action that we needed," Dr. Moody said. "Now the State Baptist Convention will build the college. The college committee had gone as far as it could go in raising money without positive action from the convention. This gives us the authority we need to move ahead."

In 1964 the convention selected the Palm Beach Gardens site donated by John D. MacArthur, president, Bankers Life and Casualty and authorized a fund-raising campaign for $1,500,000. The convention heretofore had said that $1,500,000 would have to be raised before it would activate the board of trustees.

Wednesday's action set the board of trustees in operation after $770,000 had been raised.

Baptist Plan New College; Board Activated

The trustees will hold their organizational meeting in Jacksonville on December 8th at which time a chairman, vice chairman and committees necessary to establish the college will be appointed.

Among the trustees are Dr. Jess Moody, chairman of the local college committee, Rev. J. C. Walters, Jr., of Lake Worth, Mrs. James Nenece of Palm Beach and Dr. Donald Warren of West Palm Beach.

Know why Diazinon is your most useful vegetable insecticide?

You can always rely on Diazinon® insecticide to provide total protection against insects at lowest possible cost - whether you apply it to protect above-ground crops or below-ground crops.

Diazinon not only controls a wide range of both soil and foliage insects, but it is effective against a number of insects which have become resistant to other insecticides used for vegetables.

What's more, Diazinon knocks insects out fast and for keeps by contact and residual action. Unlike systemic insecticides, Diazinon does not have to be absorbed by the plant before effective insect control begins. It goes to work as soon as you apply it.

You can use Diazinon relatively close to harvest without creating a residue problem. There's little danger of exceeding tolerances on crops harvested for fresh market or processing. Just apply Diazinon as directed on the label.

No special protective clothing or devices are required when handling and applying Diazinon. However, when using pesticides you should always read and follow label directions.

Write us for your free copy of the Diazinon Handbook. It tells you how you can protect your crop best from both soil and foliage insects with one or more of the easy-to-use, economical Diazinon formulations - wettable powder, emulsifiable liquid, and granular.

Gove PTA Hear Report On First Gray Lady Training

Gove PTA heard and saw the results of the first class of Gray Ladies graduates of its parents on Monday night at its November meeting. Mrs. Douglas Thompson, Chairman of Gray Ladies for the school, presented Mrs. Emil Wolf, the instructor for the Red Cross course, who presented the mothers who completed this course. They were Mrs. Betty Blair, Mrs. Elizabeth Bowen,

Mrs. Elsie Butler, Mrs. Mary Frances Cooper, Mrs. Margene Hair, Mrs. Blanche Jones, Mrs. Betty Meyer, Mrs. Marie Kicke, Mrs. Betty Trammell, and Mrs. Ann Youchok.

Mrs. Thompson then presented Mrs. Wolf with a gift on behalf of her work with this group, and as a token of appreciation from the PTA. Mrs. John Dalany, an ordained Methodist minister of this city, presented the devotional which was centered around the 92nd Psalm and a humorous poem entitled "Give Thanks for What."

Reports were heard from the chairman of the Halloween Carnival, Ray Caruthers, as to the amount of profit, and Joe Clayton, the presiding officer of the evening, announced the school would be able to complete the payment on air conditioners, as a result of the tremendous success of the carnival.

For the second consecutive time, Mrs. Carolyn Eason's third grade room was the winner of the parent count, having thirty-five percent present.

Membership chairman, Mrs. Warren Battle, urged all to participate in the corse sale on Wednesday afternoon preceding the Belle Glade-Pahokee game. This activity is sponsored by the School Bands. As membership chairman, Mrs. Battle reported 131 paid memberships in the Gove PTA which was a 14 percent increase over October results.

The program for the evening, introduced by Vice President and Presiding Officer Joe Clayton, was in two parts.

The first speaker presented was Mrs. Margaret Mosley, Glades Area Elementary School Supervisor, who spoke on the summer enrichment program offered in this area, and how the State of Florida was one of the first to have such a supported program, and how Statistics had proven there was a direct relationship between the marked decline in the juvenile delinquency rates in the areas where this type of program was conducted.

She stated that this program was instituted in this area in 1947, and was in the beginning, purely recreational, but gradually it has come to embrace enrichment and remedial classes, and the driver education course, which is one for credit.

Mrs. Ruth Irvin, principal of Osceola Elementary School, and Mrs. Margaret Campbell, a teacher, then gave a report with slides of Operation Headstart, this being part two of the program. The slides and statistics were of much interest to the audience, for many were unaware of the scope of this branch of the poverty program sponsored by the Federal Government.

She indicated there were 27 teachers with a paid aide in each room, two speech therapists, two care workers, one health nurse, and a pediatrician who examined each of the children.

She reported there were five centers of the program in the Glades area, and that the teachers in all the schools were most enthusiastic concerning this program for they felt it prepared the individual child in his approach to the academic world.

Mrs. Irvin also stressed the nutritional value of the program, for the children were served early morning milk, a mid-morning juice, and a grade A lunch.

Following the program, the hostesses, Mrs. Bill Musselwhite, Mrs. Wm. Drake, and Mrs. Huell Frier served nut bread topped with whipped cream, nuts and coffee.

Change In Insurance Rate Law Endorsed

TAMPA, (Special) — A free enterprise competitive system of insurance rate regulation was endorsed for Florida this week by the Florida Association of Insurance Agents. Robert Treweek, president of FAIA, said the endorsement was made by the membership at meetings held throughout the state. Mr. Treweek noted that the Florida Action Committee for Traffic Studies, a public group of Florida citizens, had recommended a similar approach to increased competition.

FAIA had previously been on record as favoring a change in Florida's rate regulatory law. Mr. Treweek said the current law had led to inadequate rates resulting in a severe limitation on the availability of insurance for the people of Florida. He said the FAIA study of the competitive system in other states led to the conclusion that competition was working well and would solve Florida's insurance problems to the benefit of both the insurance industry and the insurance-buying public. The competitive law would provide for safeguards with the Insurance Department required to make such examinations as needed to insure compliance with the law's standards. These standards include safeguards against excessive, inadequate, and unfairly discriminatory rates.

Farm Front

The proposed new state constitution will get a thorough going over by the Constitutional Revision Committee during a three-week convention in Tallahassee, starting Nov. 28.

It is my hope that the committee will not alter "Article VIII — Finance and Taxation, Section 2," which allows for the classification of lands and permits different assessments on the various classifications of lands. Section 2 states:

"Classification of property — tax rates — valuation — ad valorem taxes. By general law of uniform operation, property may be classified for the purpose of taxation on the basis of character or use and each class may be differently assessed and taxed at a different rate, and any class of property may be exempt for taxation. The tax on tangible personal property shall never exceed two mills on the dollar of assessed value."

"Assessments and rates of taxation shall be uniform and equal within each classification of property."

"No state ad valorem taxes shall be levied upon real estate or tangible personal property." Although the provision is a very simple statement, it provides for broad, general powers which I feel are needed to give agriculture a livable ad valorem tax climate. It deserves the vigorous support of every facet of Florida's agricultural industry.

Daily protection is afforded Florida's four-billion dollar agricultural industry, but the general public usually is unaware of this fact until trouble breaks out.

Grudge Match

The Latins, Joe Lothario and Silento Rodriguez, demanded a rematch after a near ring riot last Friday night. This match is scheduled for Friday night at 8 p. m. at the Belle Glade Armory.

The Infernos, disqualified for their match with the Latins' last Friday, became so infuriated they attacked the referee and as well as the Latins. Lothario and Rodriguez are seeking revenge this Friday.

Also on Friday's mat card will be midwest wrestling. The tiny mites of the wrestling world, standing under 41 inches and weighing less than 90 pounds each, clash at the armory. Cowboy Bradley, the handsome midwest of Montana, takes on unruly Fuzzy Cupid of Connecticut.

In another match, Big Sam Steamboat of Hawaii and one of the top wrestlers of Florida meets the Masked Mummy.

Release of Water From Lake Okeechobee Halted by Engineers

Release of water from Lake Okeechobee to bring the level of the giant shallow lake to a safe regulation stage has been halted by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Discharge of water down the Caloosahatchee River, which has been underway since Oct. 13, was discontinued Wednesday, Nov. 9 as the lake level came within range of regulation for this time of year. Discharge of water is stopped when the level of the lake reaches about 15.5 feet above mean sea level at this time of year. This is done to carry over an adequate supply of water for the following year which may be deficient in rainfall.

Level of the lake is held at about 15.5 feet above mean sea level during the winter months and is slowly lowered to about 13.5 feet MSL during the spring to coincide with the area's normal rainy season.

Discontinuation of gravity discharge of water from the S-12 water control structures between Conservation Area 3 of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project and Everglades National Park. Florida this year has been plagued with one of its worst rainy seasons in many years. Rainfall recorded in the first nine months totaled more than 5 feet over some areas of South Florida, breaking a four-year drought.

Lake Okeechobee and all three conservation areas are now very close to ideal stage for this time of year in order to assure an adequate supply of water for use in 1967 by Everglades Park, agriculture interests and municipal users.

"Even the Everglades couldn't make my test Jeep Wagoneer say uncle."

During my road test of the new 4-wheel drive Jeep Wagoneer for Mechanix Illustrated, I took it on a turkey shoot in the Florida Everglades. Getting there was half the fun. The Wagoneer cruised effortlessly as fast as the law allowed. Its power steering is smooth and easy; the ride soft as silk. But when I got there, I flipped it into 4-wheel drive and plunged into the muck of the swampland. This comfortable, cushy car plowed through like an assault vehicle. It was uncanny that the Wagoneer could perform in the boon-docks with the same easy-going attitude it had on the highway. It's just about the perfect all-around car—good looking, comfortable and, in 'Jeep' 4-wheel drive, it'll go just about anywhere you've got the will to take it. What more could you ask for? You've got to drive it to believe it. See your 'Jeep' dealer. Check the Yellow Pages.

Don January With Harney In PGA Meet

Don January, one of the leading money winners of the PGA tour this year, will team once again with Paul Harney, one of the tour leaders before taking a club job, on the 2nd annual PGA National Team Championship.

After a first round 70, the combo came on so strong that they tied for third in 1965 inaugural at the PGA National Golf Club in Palm Beach Gardens. They'll be back after top money in the $125,000 event Dec. 10 which will see the biggest field of tour professionals ever assembled in one tournament.

January is having his best year earning $54,596 for just 21 tournaments to place 11th in the PGA money-winning list through the Hawaii Open Invitational Open last month. He won the Philadelphia Golf Classic earlier this year.

January, who plays out of Dallas, Texas, was a Ryder Cup member in 1965 and has been a consistent scorer on the tour since 1956.

Harney was one of the busiest and more successful players on the tour when he accepted the club professional's job. He now plays out of Pleasant Valley Country Club in Worcester, Mass.

The Worcester native now picks his tournaments and has done quite well winning $56,312 in only 28 starts in 1964 and 1965.

710 Violations Are Reported By Commissioners

TALLAHASSEE — Many sportsmen who are dormant during the summer come to life when the smell of gunpowder mingles with autumn leaves. Among the sportsmen who answer the call of the wild there is a percentage that will violate the game and fish laws. To curtail the activity of the violator, the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission maintains a staff of 148 wildlife officers and supervisors.

The month of October was a busy one for both the sportsmen and the wildlife officers. According to the statewide report of arrest issued by the Commission, a total of 710 violators were arrested for breaking the hunting, fishing or boating safety laws.

More Deer Expected This Year

TALLAHASSEE — Not every Florida hunter will bag his buck this year, however, there will be more deer harvested this season than during any previous year. According to the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, there are more white-tailed deer in Florida today than ever before and experienced hunters who have spent years in the forest realize how broad and impressive the white-tail comeback has been.

Fifteen years ago, Florida hunters harvested about 6,000 deer; ten years ago they took an estimated 8,000. At the close of the 1965-66 season the estimated harvest was 17,000 deer. The 1966-67 season looks good and the hunter's take is expected to exceed that of last season by approximately one to three thousand deer.

According to the wildlife biologists, approximately twenty percent of the state's deer herd consists of bucks with antlers five inches or longer. Hunters will harvest about one half of this percentage or approximately ten percent of the total deer population.

Rams Tame Wildcats

The Belle Glade Golden Rams had a frustrating first half, but came through in the second half to give Belle Glade the only inter-divisional victory this year.

Palm Beach was the first to score. A sophomore, Robin Bradbury, kicked a 24-yard field goal. At the end of the first half the score was 3-0.

After the opening of the second half the Rams had possession of the ball. Everett fumbled and Palm Beach took over. Palm Beach moved the ball about 40 yards, where the Rams took over on a fumble.

A new walk-through aviary is under construction at Sunken Gardens in St. Petersburg to house the more aggressive birds of the attraction's collection of exotic winged creatures.

Watson moved the ball from recovery to their 47.

The Rams marched 53 yards to pay dirt in 13 plays, and received two 5 yard penalties in the process. Davis made the extra point to bring the score up to 7-3.

Palm Beach took over but the Rams' tough defense forced them to punt. Then they drove 60 yards in another 13 plays for the second TD. Davis again made the extra point.

The Wildcats then took possession of the ball and moved 78 yards in 14 plays to make their only TD bringing the score to 14-9.

The last 2:29 of the game was taken up with the Rams having possession of the ball and Mann punting to the Wildcats and the Wildcats having a goal line pass broken up as the time ran out.

Says Ewe

Vickie Wilson has unusual taste when it comes to chewing gum. She has been known to devour foam-mint during English class.

Janice C. It must be nice to be awakened in the mornings by a special long-distance phone call.

Ramona Lindsay, why do you always say the wrong thing at the wrong time? You've been embarrassing the boys lately, or did you know?

Joan T., what has happened to Nick and who is Francis D.? You know, the one from Hollywood.

Barbara Warren, what sort of odd dreams have you been having lately? The Ewe hears that they have meanings to them.

Eddie V., what happened on the way back from the game? It was the blue light, wasn't it? ($15.00 worth).

Diane Fussell, how's your head? We were sorry to hear about your accident on the hand ball.

Ronnie S., Dennis S., Mike L., Steve K., Charles R., where is the new pool hall? Could it be at Murray's house.

Mr. Evans, what is this we hear about you catching the dolphin. Isn't that against the law?

Cathy B., what were you doing Tuesday night after Para Medics hanging out at Pat Bowen's car at the red light?

Gary Resmondo, you really like scrambling around on the second story roof of the high school, don't you? Did you find those car keys that you were looking for? People might think staying up on the roof for forty five minutes is sort of long! We are glad you finally got down.

Mr. Earwood, you must really have a powerful vision in order to get such great results from that microphone in Humanities!

A lot of us learned a great deal from our Tanganyika visitors! Maybe some of us will be going to see them some day!

Can You Imagine

STOP

"Do you have $25 that you want to spare?" This was the warning cry of the friendly creature in blue who haunts the school zones of Belle Glade on his motorcycle. Speed happy motorists have been caught traveling at the rate of 20 MPH on the NW 4th Street straight-a-way. Contrary to the popular belief of students and faculty members, S-O-P does not mean S-O-W and 15 MPH does not mean 20.

Although most teachers are used to making their own laws, in this case anyway, it was discovered on the first day of school that teachers are not exempt from school traffic rules. It was noted by Mr. Gardner, that one must come to a complete stop and not merely a pause. Policemen have been observed clocking cars from different sides of the canal and giving verbal warnings of consequence to speeding teachers such as Mrs. LaFlam. After having overlooked the well-concealed traffic sign on the side road by the school, it was made clear to Mr. Lowry that one does not travel 25 MPH in a school zone.

Many students have felt the hot breath of the law breathing down their necks as they raced past the school in attempts to find parking places. After a warning, students such as Vicki Challenor, Mickey McGhee, and Jackie Poole have been found cruising the school grounds at the almost non-existent speed of 15 MPH.

Let Us Be Thankful

Present-day Americans have become rather used to thinking of the Puritans as tall, solemn men in funny hats whose only major concern is religion. As a matter of fact, the early Puritans were accomplished frontiersmen and the first American pioneers. When they landed in New England, they were up against the same kind of wilderness that Daniel Boone explored more than a hundred years later. Like all Americans who come after them, the Puritans had a restlessness that drove them on to clear new farms and build new towns deeper and deeper in the American land.

Wherever they went, they carried with them the strong faith of their Puritan ancestors, who believe that God had chosen America to be His specially favored land.

From these brave and accomplished ancestors we inherited our first Thanksgiving.

In their memory and the memory of their struggles, we have continued the celebrations for centuries. As we feast and give our thanks on Thanksgiving Day for all our many blessings, we remember our brave forefathers who molded, with their hardships and their fortitude, a day of thanks for all Americans.

Meet The Presidents; Danny Davis, Jr. Civitan

Danny Davis has many ideas to help the Junior Civitan club and be of more service to our community. Projects outlined for this year's work are selling sweatshirts around campus, selling fruit cakes for the Senior Civitans, having a car wash, drafting a patio extension, and placing posters around school before sports activities.

Danny lists his favorite activities as being football and band. His color is blue and best subject is Phys. Ed.

Danny was born in Cullman, Alabama, in 1949. He wants to become a conservationist, although his plans to further his education only go as far as Palm Beach Junior College.

Sponsors Chosen

For our Belle Glade-Pahokee game the Rams chose the following clubs to represent our high school: Mary Leigh A. merine, Frances Collins, and Janet Challenor. Also, our team captains for the last game of the season were Larry Norman, Bryant Davis, and Tommy Woods.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
Scientific developments in all fields are advancing so rapidly that the average layman finds it difficult to adjust his mental process to keep pace.

In a recent column I told you about a new radio pill, a transistorized radio transmitter about the size of a small button, that when swallowed by a patient sends back an amazing amount of information as to your physical condition enabling your doctor to diagnose the situation quickly and accurately.

Now comes a group of Philco scientists with what they call an Automatic Medical Monitor in the form of a chair. All the patient has to do is sit in it while an operator checks physical impulses.

With arms resting on special ly designed conductive arm rests the patient is completely relaxed. The comfortable upholstery of the chair has built-in sensors or electrical pick up which send the minute impulses produced by the body functions through a wire attached to a data processing machine.

The Automatic Medical Monitor will accurately report your pulse rate, respiration and heart sounds and virtually eliminate the stethoscope, electrocardiograph and other clinical apparatus.

We can thank our space program for this advance in medical science for its development came about as a result of Philco's research to find a remote control monitoring technique to gauge physical responses of astronauts.

With the advent of medicare and increased demand for physical check ups, the medical monitor will save hours of waiting for patients and valuable time for the doctor. Instead of simply sitting and waiting to see the doctor, they sit in a monitor chair and are examined while they wait. A nurse or attendant simply gathers the information from the processing machine which will tell the doctor just about everything he wants to know without the time consuming old type of examination and its attending series of various tests.

Medical science is moving so fast that today's human being is apparently well on the way to becoming a mechanical man. When eyes give out he can apply to the eye bank for a new pair. When he loses blood he goes to the blood bank. His hospital is equipped with an artificial kidney, mechanical lung and other devices for repairing and maintaining life.

A recent issue of Newsweek points out that the effort to build the first artificial heart has become a sweepstakes with winnings to be shared with thousands of Americans who now die each year from cardiac ailments.

Mechanical boosters to assist the left ventricle, the heart's main pumping chamber, have already been used by Dr. Michael E. DeBakey of Houston's Baylor University and Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz at Maimonides Hospital in Brooklyn.

Test Program Set Dec. 5-8

The Florida High School Equivalency testing program of the Department of Adult and Veteran Education will have its test General Educational Development testing period December 5-8, 1966. Adults over age twenty who are eligible should make application and pay $7.50 fee at the Adult Education office. The application deadline date for the test and the diploma is November 23.

The General Educational Development test battery has five parts totaling ten hours of testing, administered during morning or evening hours. Two hours are allowed for the test for completion of each part of the test battery. The day-time testing will be conducted at the Westward Elementary School, 1101 Golf Avenue, West Palm Beach — Home Economics Room, North Wing second floor, December 5, 6, and 8 from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. The evening testing will be conducted in the Royal Palm School cafeteria, 375 Delkita Road, West Palm Beach on December 5, 6, 7, and 8 starting at 6:30 p. m. except on Tuesday night, December 6 when an early start at 5:30 p. m. is required for completion of two tests on that night. (Maps showing how to reach each school are available upon request).

Interested adults should visit the Adult and Veteran Education office, 721 Gardena Street, West Palm Beach, or call 832-3446.

PRACTICAL JOKER
Although the mockingbird, officially the state bird of Florida, usually imitates a variety of birds sounds, it occasionally mimics the voices of humans. For example, a young girl on a Florida city street is nonplussed when she hears the familiar "wool" whistle coming from seemingly nowhere. And this, not once, but three times, successively!

TOP SALESMAN — Robert T. Martin III, PBX installation and repairman for Southern Bell Telephone Co., was named top salesman for the West Palm Beach district of his company this week.

FLORIDA PROJECT
In 1914 an increasing number of automobiles bumping along wagon trails of Polk County prompted citizens to go all-out for paved surfaces. Organizing a Good Roads Association, they backed a $1,500,000 bond issue to build 217 miles of asphalt highways connecting all the county's major cities. This effort, successful by 1916, resulted in the largest transaction of similar construction in the south.
